VCI Protocol Validation Library

The SoCLib library provides a series of modules to validate the VCI protocol used by the modules of a given system. The library contains modules to validate CABA modules and TLM-T modules using the VCI protocol. Currently only CABA is supported. The following documents explain how those validation modules can be used: